

Amendments to the Abstract:

Please replace the Abstract on page 48 of the specification with the following amended abstract.

ABSTRACT

The invention provides compositions and methods for treating a subject who has suffered from a central nervous system disorder. More particularly, the invention provides sustained polymeric drug delivery systems having a polymer particle, a therapeutic agent, and a buoyancy agent for direct delivery of therapeutic agents into the central nervous system.